simplywireless™ Achieves Premier Certification From Cisco Systems

North Sydney – New South Wales – Simply Wireless announced today it recently achieved Premier Certification from Cisco Systems, Inc. To earn Premier Certification, Simply Wireless met the personnel, training, specialization and post sales support requirements set forth by Cisco. Earlier this year, Simply Wireless built the ‘CeBIT Australia Wireless Experience’ on an end to end Cisco public access solution and this achievement recognizes Simply Wireless’ close working relationship with Cisco over the last 2 years.

Premier Certified Partners are recognized and rewarded for having some of the industry’s best trained network technicians who are capable of achieving and demonstrating an expertise in planning, designing, implementing and supporting Cisco network solutions.

Cisco Premier Certified Partners provide 8x5 technical service with 24-hour call back for problem resolution and 24-hour onsite response capabilities. These support requirements highlight Simply Wireless’ commitment to ensuring its customers that its strategic business network is supported.

Desmond O’Geran, Simply Wireless Australia’s Chief Executive commented “Simply Wireless has been able to demonstrate superior value to our customers in the Cisco-based solutions we deliver and support, from mission critical enterprise networks to smaller businesses. No two customers are identical, and so neither is their tailored wireless solution. We are delighted with this partnership, and this official recognition by Cisco of us as a Wireless LAN specialized partner is great. Given that Cisco & Simply Wireless has worked together closely in the past, this official recognition of our level of professionalism, training and expertise is very welcome.”
